Testimonials

I give great credit to the creators of WallPost because they took into consideration the hurdles business people may face. I can now easily generate sales reports, view the progress of my finances on a weekly basis, receive flags via email and check how the employees are doing remotely. What is much more amazing than having an accurate view of the progress data of my company ahead of my morning coffee? This software is amazing.

Benoit CERCEAU, President - Founder

The smart phone access to wallpost is an amazing feature and allows time-stretched professionals like me to quickly check the productivity levels at any time of my choosing. We are able to quickly take corrective measures with the insights provided by this amazing tool.

M. Ditta, Managing Director
U Shop Tax Free, UK

WallPost has provided our management team with a wonderful platform tool that has helped to reveal hidden operational inefficiencies for our accounts department, as well as providing us with timely field sales reports that have assisted management to increase our sales productivity. We're now able to track and monitor our business in a simple and easy manner like never before.

Charles Diab, Group CEO
Smartax Network, UK

The Operations has been always clouded by problems we did not know how to solve. Our reports were full of errors, our projects were crowded, making their development hard to track and manage. With the ability to now receive alerts via my email about the projects and the wonderful ability to now monitor my employees through my smart-phone, I must say that WallPost could help many companies make their process smarter and faster.

Thierry Morano Foures, CEO
Tune2Pay Solutions, France

Managing a group of companies with different business natures requires huge efforts, accurate information, reports, meetings, and lots of time to give the appropriate decisions and direction to my Managers. I could not find any other software that has the capabilities to think for an organization and make recommendations, comments, and give guidance to my managers. WallPost amazed me when I saw how its well-crafted features made most of the processes in the Company quite easy and enjoyable. Indeed " Work Smart, Work Fast"

“

WallPost Software – a powerful Business Intelligence platform

Business Intelligence software helps companies gain perspective on their business operations.

By transforming unstructured business data from any internal source into reportable datasets and visualizing that data into graphs and tables that expose valuable insights.

Business users are able to slice and dice data on their own and make informed decisions.
